

the problem.

The mineral supply chain is one of the most unsophisticated $100Bn markets in the world.

An opaque and outdated value chain promotes fraud and unfair payments, especially for the 40% of miners who are female.

Cash transactions further prevent miners from building up a credit score.

Because of that, miners have no track record and can't access the loans required to purchase much-needed equipment.

who we are.

We transform trading, compliance and financing of small-scale sites to benefit miners, governments & mineral buyers.

We are helping to protect miners and their countries' economies by reducing the usage of child labour and mineral tax evasion, adding transparency to the mineral supply chain through the use of blockchain technology.
